

Office of the Insurance Commissioner set to launch new website!

The Washington state Office of the Insurance Commissioner is launching a new website on April 21. The tasks you come to our website to complete will be easier than ever because of this change, but things will look different!

Here's a link to our new site.

We hope you'll take a few minutes to look around and try things out. If you find any issues on the new site, please send us your feedback.

Closer to launch we'll share some additional information about how to:

- Apply and renew your producer license
- Log into your account
- Make a change of address
- Print your license
- Report your completed CEUs

We'll share a video, too, on how to complete some of your top tasks.

Thank you,

The OIC Web Team
